OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

THAT PICTURE of Mrs. Velma Olds, city treasurer, that appeared in last week's paper deserves to be placed in an honored niche in the archives of the city as an illustration of a dedicated watch-dog of the city coffers in action.

You may recall that the camera caught Mrs. Olds at the podium with an arm outstretched as she was impassionately protesting the suggested raise in rent from $200 to $225 per month for the house on Sunnyoaks that has been used as a fire station by the city since 1961.

Mrs. Olds felt that the rent had been too high in the first place and the city had been paying too much rent all these years. With only a year or so to go before the city will have its own fire station, she didn't feel that the city should shell out any more dough per month for that short a period.

The city treasurer said that she had personally inspected the house and that the firemen had kept it immaculate, far superior to what would have been the case probably if casual renters had been in it for the past six years.

By one of those strange paradoxes that occur at public assemblies occasionally, the city councilmen the same night that Mrs. Olds made her pitch had been dealing practically with millions of dollars.

THEY HAD authorized the sale of $129,950 in bonds for a local improvement district and had also approved three suggested plans for the sale of city bonds with the lowest offering at $500,000.

But the councilmen had no trouble in lowering their sights from that rarified fiscal atmosphere to get the message from Mrs. Olds.

They directed City Manager Bob Stephens to inform the owner, Lou Colla, that they, too, thought $25 more per month was too much to pay.

Incidentally, for the benefit of those of you who wondered, that is a real star that the city treasurer was wearing on her blouse in the photo.

It's a special agent's badge furnished by Wells Fargo where much of the city's money is kept.

AFTER LAST WEEK'S column in which we submitted that maybe the two parks on Campbell Ave. and a few evergreens could be decorated for Christmas, someone suggested that it might be possible to light up the trees the Rotary Club installed in the boxes on Campbell Ave.

But we have been informed that the trees are having a tough enough struggle just to survive and getting lit for the Christmas season might really jeopardise their future.

WE STILL think it is possible to decorate a few spots such as the Judge Blaine tree and

Schools start Christmas programs

By Sally Howe

While parents may groan at the early date which most Campbell schools are dismissing for Christmas vacation, (Dec. 15) they'll have ample opportunity to get into the spirit of the season by attending the many programs, mostly musical, with which local schools are heralding the season.

SAN TOMAS

San Tomas School held their program Tuesday, Dec. 5. Gene Blackburn directed the school chorus in Christmas music. Primary grades, including a first grade rhythm band, performed Christmas pieces.

ROLLING HILLS

Another "early bird" is Rolling Hills school, who will present "Silver Bells" Dec. 6 & 7 in the school multi-use room, 7:30 p.m. Tom Fox will direct the school band and orchestra and the 6th grade orchestra. Ray Johnson directs the 6th grade choir. A Christmas reading is on the program.

FOREST HILL

Westmont High School Auditorium is being pressed into use by Forest Hill School in order to accommodate student body and parents on Tuesday, Dec. 2, 7:30 p.m. The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Beth Taylor as well as grades 3,4, and 5 will perform.

BUCKNALL

Bucknall School will present it's program on Tuesday, Dec. 12, and Wednesday, Dec. 13, in the multipurpose room. Every child who can will participate in the programs; kindergarten, 1, 2, and 3, plus the school choir on Tuesday; 4,5, and 6 plus the choir, directed by Polly Danielsen, on Wednesday evening.

BAKER

"The Night Before Christmas" will be the theme of Baker School Tuesday, Dec. 12, 7:30 p.m. in Castro Jr. High School's cafetorium. The school band directed by Judith Hinch as well as each one of the students will participate.

Baker School children are making ceramic tree ornaments to share with their families this year.

HAZELWOOD

Two consecutive nights are being utilized by Hazelwood School to allow all the student body to perform for their parents and friends. On Tuesday, Dec, 12, Kindergarten, first and second grade children will participate and the following night, Dec. 13, grades three, four and five will perform. The time is 7:30.

ROSEMARY

Parents of primary children are invited to hear their youngsters sing Christmas songs at 1:10 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 12. Earlene Ware and Walt Pattison will direct the school instrumentalists in the evening. Choir under the direction of Mrs. Marge Foskett will perform both afternoon and evening.

Friday, Dec. 15, Rosemary School expects a visit from a candy-cane bearing gentlemen known affectionately as "Santa"

Police chief recommends

Ordinance would "cover" topless

"Topless" dancers now free to swing and sway within the city limits without restrictions would be "covered", if a proposed city ordinance is adopted.

So-called "topless" entertainment would be prohibited from operating within the City of Campbell, if the City Council next Monday night, Dec. 11, adopts a new ordinance as recommended by Police Chief John Morgan.

"In my opinion," Chief Morgan said this week, "the City of Campbell does not need this type of entertainment but the city at the present time has no authority to regulate or control such activities".

Under the emergency ordinance that Chief Morgan is recommending, any restaurant or bar, would have to apply to the City Council for a permit to conduct "live entertainment" in its establishment. An annual fee of $200 would be levied.

The proposed ordinance, which is patterned after the one in effect in Los Angeles and in other cities, defines "nudity" and "semi-nudity" and specifies that vital parts of the anatomy must be covered by the entertainers if a permit is issued.

There are only two establishments in Campbell that now offer "topless" entertainment. The police department, Morgan reports, has

Single family dwellings take spurt in November

Single-family residential construction took a decided upswing during the month of November, with the issuance of 28 such permits by the city.

Almost $1 million in building permits were issued by the City of Campbell building department during November, for one of the best months in recent years according to Waly Byron, city building official.

With November's record month, the total for the year to date has soared more than $1.6 million above the same period last year. For the first 11 months of this year the total is $5,317,944 compared to $3,765,725 last year

The total for November, $941,864 is more than that of November, 1966 and $536,000 more than for the previous month, October, which had only $355, 142 in permit valuation.

Single family permits led the building parade in November with the 28 permits that were issued in that category totalling $611,997. Only two such permits were issued in November, 1966 for $36,852, and there were only two single-family permits issued in October this year for $38,250.

Three multiple permits for 12 units came to $123,627 last month while in November, 1966, there was only one duplex permit issued for $23,290. October this year, however, exceeded November in the multiple division with three such permits for 16 for $172,170.

In November this year two commercial building permits totaled $98,502. In November,

Eight new directors, representing the business, education, industrial and professional areas of the community, have been elected by Chamber of Commerce members for two year terms.

Ballots were counted by the executive committee last Friday.

They will take office at the first board of directors meeting for the new year, Wednesday, Jan, 3, when the new officers for the year will be named. A president, two vice-presidents and treasurer will be named at that time.

The directors and officers will be "officially" installed at the annual installation-dinner dance to be held at Villa Felice on Friday, Feb. 2. Of the 15-member board, seven directors are "carry-overs".

In addition, to the eight directors who were named in the annual election, the new board, as provided by the by-laws, will name up to four "directors-at-large" to serve for one-year terms.

Present officers of the C of C are George Vierhus, Campbell Press, president; Harry Lind, First Valley Bank Los Gatos, first vice-president; Ken Mantle, New York Life second vice-president and Bob Bullard, CPA, treasurer.

Four of the directors who were elected for two-year terms were incumbents. Two of them, Earl Nichols, of Campbell Drugs, and Arland Hatfield, First National Bank, had

The role of police

EDITORS NOTE: Police Chief John Morgan of Campbell participated recently in a panel discussion on juvenile crime sponsored by the California Youth Authority in Monterey.

Those in attendance were representatives of many probation and police departments and also members of the Governor's Delinquency Prevention Commission.

Chief Morgan spoke to the group on the role of the police department in relation to other agencies concerned with the rise of juvenile crime.

Because your editor feels that many of the points covered in Chief Morgan's talk have a direct bearing on the operation of the police department in this community, we have taken the liberty of presenting excerpts from it.

We think you will find it informative. -G. V.

DELINQUENCY PREVENTION
By John D. Morgan
Campbell Police Chief

What is the role and responsibility of Law Enforcement and in particular, the Police?

The relationship of man to man as he faces the day to day complexities of his economic, social and political life, the behavioral problems in our heterogeneous society, is cause for an examination of the role of the police.

While this protective role has increased in complexity, there is little controversy that the police must confront crime and criminality when and where it occurs.

But must not Law Enforcement concern itself with the protection of not only the victims of crime, but an equal responsibility to attack those problems and enigmatic conditions that cause great concern to society as a whole?

I firmly believe that the police must take an active role, even though it may be relegated to a supporting one, to unite and strengthen the social agencies that are more directly able to produce a therapeutic effect on these conditions that tend to produce these results.

There is no doubt that basically the present day police officer lacks the training, the knowledge and perhaps the present ability to deal with many of the complex social problems.

Should the police therefore, be relegated only to the protective role and be limited in their participation and guidance in the prevention and alleviation of those conditions that provide the cause and effect with which the officer must deal directly?

Indeed not! And I emphasize this so that there can be no doubt as to the role police must accept.

There must come about a marriage of purpose between the courts, prosecution officials, those involved in corrections and in particular, those engaged in delinquency prevention.

We indeed are just beginning the embryonic stages of this unity. But in order to develop, there must occur internal change within Law Enforcement itself.

If we are to assume a proper role, we must then have competent personnel.

Let us first recognize that law enforcement itself has only begun to enhance its own image and that a great deal of the image it reflects is a direct product of its own conduct.

And make no mistake about it, we don't have to look very far, nor do we have to look to other parts of the country to find, in my opinion, conduct that is not conducive to improving that image.

The lack of vociferous support instead of the somewhat passiveness of the general public is essential. And yet, I find I cannot continue to blame a public that is not educated to the role of the police, or even have a basic knowledge of the law and that there is little opportunity to acquire that knowledge. The sensationalism of news reporting and the misconceptions that are perpetrated by television do little to attract the academically educated to law enforcement.

Nor can we allow the courts to escape their responsibility in this problem of recruitment.

The courts must protect the officers by administering strict and severe penalties for those who use force in resisting arrest.

This information is available to those who may consider a career in law enforcement and they certainly have a right to all the protection of those who have the responsibility of administering just punishment for violations of law.

And it is time for our legislative bodies to re-evaluate the role of the police officer.

Dedication is certainly an important factor, but I'm firmly convinced that dedication to any particular field of service is learned.

How can you be dedicated to something you do not know?

So we must look for those individuals who have the latent personal traits of dedication and attract them to law enforcement.

Assuming that the problem of recruitment is not an insurmountable one, how do we retain those who are both academically and professionally competent?

Are the challenges presently sufficient for a man with a bachelor's degree?

In the everyday patrol activities of law enforcement, will he have the opportunity to utilize this knowledge and will his education, knowledge and intelligence be commensurate with the challenges of the situations he will face?

Indeed, will his talents be utilized so that the feeling of accomplishment will result?

Are there sufficient opportunities for career development within law enforcement itself?

Unless law enforcement realizes and accepts its proper role in the administration of justice and the concept of crime prevention include an attack by law enforcement on those conditions that precipitate crime, there may well be little opportunity for career development for those whose academic education and professional dedication to the service of man is of a superior quality.

I would add another officer to every department, knowing that in smaller departments his duties may have to be combined with his role as juvenile officer, police agent, or whenever possible, a distinct and separate position; and that would be the delinquency prevention officer.

While I'm sure this statement may well cause controversy, I believe that this position should be rightfully an integral part of the police function.

Let me attempt to show the philosophy behind first of all, the position and secondly, why it should be integrated into a police department. Allow me to use another problem facing law enforcement that we are all familiar with and, I believe, we can draw a parallel between the two.

I don't believe we are really seeing much progress in our attack on the narcotics problem, particularly with juveniles and young adults. Our first hue and cry is that we must increase penalties and therefore, this will really stop the supply and therefore, our problem will resolve itself.

Penalties have been increased, and by the way, I don't believe that we should ignore this attack, indeed, we should increase the penalties further, but the problem still exists. We are all familiar with the basic economic concept of supply and demand.

As long as there's a demand, there will be supply; so we must realize that our efforts must be on the problem of demand. The increased use of narcotics, particularly by the young, is only symptomatic of a much deeper and underlying problem facing us today.

The increase in criminal activities may well be a result of our not properly coping with the often overt delinquent tendencies by the youth in our communities. This then, is where our attact must take place.

If we can work on these conditions, if we can bring about a behavioral and attitudinal change; if we can indeed create an atmosphere that will not tend to breed delinquent behavior, then we are attacking criminality in its embryonic stage.

There is no other agency that deals more directly on a day to day basis, nor is there any other agency that must confront the often violent product that is a result of these conditions than law enforcement.

Would it not then reasonably follow that, if qualified, we should have an important role in attacking the conditions that produce the results which we must ultimately confront?

In conclusion this briefly is my feeling toward our role.

With the Christmas season upon us we well remember that 2,000 years ago the star of Bethlehem became a symbol of hope to the world.

I honestly believe that the star that has been given to me by the people in my community represents in a way the hope of that community for peace, knowing that their lives and property are being safely guarded, knowing that if they need help, it is only moments away.

And you, each of you, have an obligation to keep that star shining brightly, that through your efforts, your conduct and your dedication, this world will be a better place.

This challenge I leave with you.

the two little parks.

But we haven't come up with a definite plan as yet.

We know Madeline Rogers, wife of Mayor Ed Rogers, is a strong supporter for lighting some of the trees and there are others who feel the same way.

Maybe we can get something going after all.

EVEN WITHOUT the Christmas lights on Campbell Ave., one can tell that the joyous, bustling season is with us again by just gettting involved in the traffic maneuvers in the Campbell post office parking lot.

That abbreviated post office lot will never win any prizes in the category of accessibility for the motoring public, no matter what time of year.

During the Christmas season especially the traffic tempo gains such momentum in that confined space that it often leads to traffic tempers gaining the same momentum.

This, of course, is incongruous as all get out especially during the Yule season.

But it is difficult to remember "'tis the season to be jolly", when one has to uncrumple a fender or two, even if one has just mailed a Christmas package.

EVEN WITHOUT the Christmas traffic, one has to be cautious in maneuvering in and out of the lot. There have been a lot of near-misses and probably a good record of hits since the post office has been in existence.

We almost clobbered a guy the other day in backing out.

Good brakes, someone else's horn, a well-directed shout or two, and a "soft" bumper touch kept our contact fortunately in the "less-than-scratch" category.

That fence that has been erected between the college and post office lot has helped matters to some degree, we understand, as far as the college overflow is concerned.

Yet we can't help but feel that three feet more added on the west to the post office lot might possibly have prevented some of those wrinkles from appearing on both fenders and brows locally.

But as we said, 'Tis the season to be jolly.'

NATURALLY that brings to mind our friend, John Faber, or the Campbell Memorial Chapel.

John is also associated with a funeral home in Los Gatos and is active in both the Los Gatos and Campbell Chambers of Commerce.

He has always been active in membership drives for both C of C's, often at the same time. And he has served as director of both chambers at the same time.

During the Campbell membership drive, in which the football theme was used ("49ers" vs. "Raiders"), John was quite critical of our constant use of the word "kickoff".

We guess he felt that we were infringing a bit on his territory.

But there again, John heads the new "revitalazation" group for the downtown core.

IN GETTING "mug" shots, as we did for the C of C directors and as we have done on so many occasions in the past, we use our office as our "studio" for many of the shots.

This brings to mind the fact that we think we know now who is the "most photographed" person in town.

It is our little wife, Dorothy, although her picture very seldom appears in The Press.

You see, our gal's photo is right on the desk next to where the person being photographed sits to be shot.

And she's in 'em all but is cut out of the finished mug.

Flower stand wins approval

Planning Commission members on Monday night granted approval for a second "Tho'tful Stop Flower Shop" for Campbell.

The proposed multi-colored, octagonally shaped stand approved Monday night will be located in the parking lot in front of Bonanza Home Center in the Hamilton Plaza Shopping Center at Bascom and Hamilton.

The previous one approved for the same owners, Gary F. Hall, was for the new Riverside Plaza Shopping Center at the San Tomas Expressway and W. Hamilton.

Members of the commission at Monday's meeting were also sympathetic to the request for a pole sign for the new Taco Joe's restaurant soon to be opened at Fewtrell and Bascom The pole sign desired would be moved from a location on Winchester Blvd.

The commissioners agreed that the new Taco Joe establishment was an attractive addition and basically was "undersigned" because of the present "saw-tooth" condition of the street. They indicated they would look with more favor if the pole more favor if the 33-feet high pole sign would be slightly modified before being moved and also that the pole sign would be allowed for a limited period only or until the street was widened.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillippe Auger, of 855 Ricky Drive, were given approval by the commission for a variance to allow them to add a second story to the existing garage on their property.

The commission also approved a zone change from CM (controlled manufacturing): B-40 to CM: B-20 for property owned by Phillip Olavarri at 2161 Dell Ave. off Hacienda. But the commission declined to expand the zoning change for adjacent property.

At next Monday's meeting also, the city will be presented with a claim from Herman I. Friestedt for $25,000 for property at 10 E. Alice affected by the widening of Winchester Blvd. would center around the right of the previous owner of the property in the dedication procedures that were necessary in acquiring the right-of-way by the city for the widening of the street.

Bill Wren, public works director, at Monday's meeting plans to request the City Council to establish a guideline as to the policy of using bond money for the improvement of streets in industrial areas.

Donna Maynard becomes bride of Delton Perry in home rites

Mr. and Mrs. Delton D. Perry are now at home in Campbell following their recent marriage. The bride is the former Miss Donna Maynard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Maynard, 1439 Ridgeley Dr.

The nuptials were held at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Bert D. Keeney officiated at the evening ceremony before a small gathering of intimate friends and relatives.

Donna chose a white satin street length gown featuring long lace cage sleeves for her wedding. Her short three tiered veil was crowned with a spray of orange blossoms and she carried a nosegay of roses and carnations.

The newlyweds were feted at a small reception and spent their honeymoon at Brookdale Lodge in Boulder Creek.

A graduate of Del Mar High School, the new Mrs. Perry is also a graduate of San Jose City College with an Associate of Arts degree in Law Enforcement. She is attending San Jose State College on a part-time basis in order to obtain a Bachelor's degree. Donna is employed as a police matron for Campbell Police Department.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Virgie Miles, 115 Calle Marguerita, Los Gatos. He is a graduate of Campbell High School and was employed as a police officer for Campbell Police Department for six years. He is now attending law school.

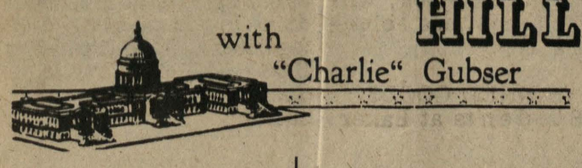
ON CAPITOL HILL



with "Charlie" Gubser

Hamburger and postage stamps don't have much in common beyond the fact that they are priced by the same system.

If an entire beef carcass were sold over the counter, it would probably be priced at less than 50¢ per pound. But individual cuts will vary from $2.50 for New York steaks to 59¢ for ground chuck and even less for bones and scrap.

The same pricing system applies in a theater where the choice seats in the orchestra section for the same production sell for more than twice as much as the gallery seats.

In a sense postal rates are set in much the same manner. First-class mail is supposed to be a preferred service which is given priority handling, is forwarded if the addressee has changed his residence, is sealed for secrecy, and is given extraordinary protection. So, first-class postage is set to cover the entire amount of expenses allocated to first-class mail plus an additional amount. In other words, first-class mail is priced like a T-bone steak and air mail like a prime New York.

The mailers of second- and third-class mail are generally required to present their mailings in a manner directed by the Postmaster General. The mailer must perform certain steps in preparing his mail which include facing, sorting to zip codes, tying and bundling, sacking, and delivery to the Post Office of mailing. It is estimated by the Post Office Department that this process eliminates more than twenty costly mail handling steps which are performed by the Post Office in taking care of first-class mail.

Past congressional policy has pretty much followed the guide line that first-class preferred service should rate somewhere around $1.25 for every dollar costs, while third-class bulk mail, sometimes referred to as "junk mail", should return somewhere around eighty cents for each dollar in costs.

At the present time, first-class is returning $1.03 for each dollar bulk rate ("junk mail") slightly over sixty-one cents on the dollar. The rate increase originally requested by Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien would have changed this to the point where first-class would return $1.23 on the dollar and bulk rate would return eighty cents on the dollar. Theoretically, at least, this would bring "junk mail" up to a point where it meets the criteria of the hamburger versus New York steak system of pricing.

This explanation, though seemingly sound, simply will not overcome the public's resentment of unwanted "junk mail" which fills their mailboxes each day. The twenty extra steps which the third-class mailer must undertake are of no concern to Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public who don't want "junk mail" at any price. If this matter were submitted to a referendum, the public would undoubtedly voted that third-class mail should return one dollar for each dollar of costs and that first-class returns should be reduced to the same ratio. Of course, what this amounts to is the elimination of bulk mailing and the requirement that all mail be sent with a first-class stamp. Maybe that's where we are headed.

County finance chief reminds taxpayers of 'big day' Dec. 11

Edward N. Glaeser, County Finance Director, has reminded taxpayers that the first installments of local property taxes become delinquent at 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11.

Glaeser said that the Tax Collector's Office is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. to accommodate those who wish to pay taxes in person or are in need of tax information.

The office is located on the first floor of the County Administration Building, 70 W. Hedding St., Civic Center, San Jose.

Payments mailed to the office must be postmarked not later than Dec. 11. Taxpayers sending payments on the last day should deliver them to a post office to insure a Dec. 11 postmark. In accordance with State law, a six per cent penalty will be added to all accounts delinquent after the due date.

Property owners who have not received a tax bill should contact the Tax Collector's Office immediately by phoning 299-2241, according to Deputy Finance Director Leonard G. Engeman. When property is transferred and the new owner does not receive a tax bill, the Tax Office should be advised of the change so the bill can be mailed to the new owner, Engeman said.

He noted that, although his office makes every effort to see that all taxpayers receive bills, failure to receive a bill does not eliminate the penalty for nonpayment.

College to hold sports banquet

Some seventy athletes in three sports will be honored at the annual West Valley College Sports Banquet, scheduled for 6 p.m Monday, Dec. 11, at the Sveden House, 1733 Campbell Ave., Campbell.

Jacket awards will be presented to athletes who participated in football, water polo and cross country teams. Guest speaker will be Vic Rowen, coach of the Far Western Conference champion San Francisco State Gators, and recipients of a bid to the Camelia Bowl in Sacramento, Dec. 9.

The Gators are to play the number one small college team in the nation, San Diego State, in the Camelia Bowl.

Burglary on Cherry Lane

Richard Lee, 235 W. Cherry Lane, Campbell, reported to police his house had been entered and items valued at $906 stolen. Lee told police officers he and his wife, Karen, were visiting friends Thursday night. When they returned they discovered their house had been entered and a portable T.V., four new tires, three ladies wigs two 15 inch wheels, a diamond and platinum engagement ring and a fuel injection system for a Corvet engine was missing.

The Lees told police they were packing to move, and most of the stolen items were in boxes in the house. Neighbors reported seeing a car backing into the driveway and entering the house Thursday night.

Del Mar Sports

Both the varsity basketball team and the varsity wrestling team of Del Mar were victorious in their journies to Cupertino and Monterey, respectively, last week. Three of the Dons' varsity football players have been chosen for the All League Team.

Del Mar's Todd Martin (who made honorable mention All League in football) was the high scorer in the rout of Cupertino 83-70, on Dec. 1. Martin made nine field goals and six free throws for a total of 23 points.

On Dec. 1 and 2 the varsity wrestling team participated in what is hoped will become an annual affair-a wrestling meet at Monterey with Monterey and Seaside. On the night of Dec. 1, the Dons' wrestlers stayed at the homes of the Seaside and Monterey wrestlers.

Del Mar's grapplers won against both Seaside, 30-21, and Monterey, 27-12. Jim Kovaleski, Doug Shimada, Tim Kerr, Ray Weber, and Bob Smith all won both of their matches.

Terry Bradford, Ron Ardiozone, Mike Aitken, Brad Breuner, John Aiello, Milt Landers, and Greg Haims all won one of their two matches. Jim Fettagther, although he didn't win either of his matches, nevertheless showed a great deal of courage. Jim is blind.

Del Mar had three players on the All League Football Team this year. End Don Transeth, with 704 yards in 50 receptions, was unanimously voted to the All League Team, Gerry Bush, the Dons' greatest quarterback, with 99 completions (14 for TD's) for 1,283 yards, and fullback Barry Reynolds, with 931 yards rushing, were also selected for the Team.

Coming up on the Del Mar sports calender is basketball at Fremont, and wrestling with Cupertino at Del Mar, both on Friday, December 8.

Campbell Corners

by Pat Hebard

Campbell's Speech and Debate team came home with first place trophies on Saturday in the League competition held at Blackford High School. John Brydon and Tim Sapp took first place in the A Division and Steve Rosenthal and Richard Panic were the winners in B Division.

The KLIV "Prunes" battled the Campbell High faculty in a tough football game last Friday with the Prunes victorious. The score was 26 to 6.

SPORTS NIGHT

The Sports Recogination Night attracted a big crowd last Wednesday night in the cafeteria. Awards were presented to the undefeated "C" basketball team along with the "D" team and the cross-country teams.

In football, the Frosh-Soph team was recognized and special awards were given to Bill McCall as the most improved player; Dan Hanks, most valuable player; Ed Guerra, most inspirational player and the most outstanding player. The West Valley League Varsity football Undefeated Champions were honored and the All League members were announced. A standing ovation was given Chuch Hawthorne upon receiving the most outstanding player award. It was a thrilling moment.

Awards were also given to Bill Hiney, most valuable player, and Dick Perry, most inspirational player. Films of highlights of the season were shown at the end of the program.

Candidates for student council and student body president were announced at an assembly held Friday. Candidates for council are Gary Fischer, Randy Fujishin, Richard Panic, Paul Tokanaga, Janie Wong and Janet Wood. Candidates for president for the spring semester are Eric Washington, Don Fox, John Brydon and Tim Sapp.

The Campbell High Wrestling Team participated in a wrestling tournament in Monterey over the week-end. Results will be announced in next week's column.

The Campbell Band participated in the annual Los Gatos Christmas Parade on Saturday.

Tonight is the Father-Daughter Play Night presented by the Girls Athletic Association. All girls are invited to bring their fathers to play badminton, volley ball and other games. Because of last year's success, a bigger turnout is expected tonight. It will be held in the Girl's Gym at 7:30 p.m.

Westmont Whirl

By Laura Vierra

Monday night the Westmont Faculty played the renowed Harlem Clowns in the Westmont Gym. A large crowd was on hand to enjoy the antics of the clowns.

The Senior Play "The Man Who Came to Dinner" was a big success. All agreed that the seniors did an excellent job.

Friday our varsity and J.V. wrestling teams went to James Lick for their first meet of the season. The Varsity came out victorious in their efforts with a score of 37-18 making this their twentieth straight win. Our J.V.'s also scored a victory against James Lick 27-25.

Saturday our Varisty Wrestling team was in a duel meet with Andrew Hill and Oak Grove, against Westmont and Branham. Westmont defeated both schools. At Westmont our Junior Varisty defeated Oak Grove. It looks like Westmont is going to have a championship team for the third consecutive year.

Our next Wrestling meet will be against Sunnyvale at Sunnyvale High today. Starting time will be at 3:30.

Campbell dominates "all-league"

Campbell High School, boasting a 9-0 season record and undisputed champions for 1967 of the West Valley Athletic League, completely dominate the traditional all league-selections.

Five Buc players gained places on the first mythical team as "offense" and four others made the first team for "defense".

In addition, Chuck Hawthorne, who set new records in ground-gaining and scoring, was named "outstanding back" for the second successive year and six other Campbell varsity gridders were given "honorable mention".

Named to the first all-league offensive team from Campbell were Hawthorne; Hank Oltmann, tackle; Rocky Fagundes, guard; Ron Synder, center; and Soren Hanson, end.

The four Bucs on the defense all-league are Jim VonHermann, end; Dain Hines, and Bill Hiney, linemen; and Dick Perry, linebacker.

Gaining honorable mention on the offense were Greg Mayfield, guard; Gary Tomasso, quarterback; and on the defense, Don Womack, lineman; Darrell Ball, linebacker and Andy Morris and Steve Malone, backs.

Del Mar placed three players on the all-league offensive first team with Don Transeth, end; Gerry Bush, quarterback and Barry Reynolds, back, gaining the spots.

Others named to the first team (offense) were Doug Neale, Saratoga, tackle; Ed Siracussa, Los Gatos, back and Mike Sharpe, Blackford, back.

On the first team (defense) in addition to the four Buc stalwarts were four from Blackford, Jeff Momson, end; John Bloomfield, lineman; Mike Lombardo, linebacker and Tom Abraham, back.

Dick Rose, lineman, and Kit Sanders, back, were named to the first defensive team with John Edwards, Camden, linebacker; Rich Toscano, Branham, linebacker and Scott Loomis, Saratoga, back, filling out the lineup.

Doug Neale, of Saratoga, was named "outstanding lineman" of the league.

The honorable mention category for the offense included: Mayfield and Tomasso, of Campbell and Tim Irving, Gene Ogilvie, Dave Schaffer and Larry Peluso of Branham, Bill Dimeff, Roger Brazis, Bob Johnson and Bob Cerelli, of Saratoga; Bill Wilson and Terry Semon, Leigh; Ed Christensen, Los Gatos; Ken Berg, Blackford, Gary Bongiovanni, Del Mar and Rick Aguilar, Camden.

Honorable mention honors on the defense, in addition to Womack, Ball, Morris and Malone, of Campbell, went to Bill Rickers and Todd Martin, of Del Mar; Dave Follett, Branham; John Boysen, Westmont; Jim Elder, Leigh; Don Cecich, Los Gatos and Bob Rose, Blackford.
